Message from The Dean

In this Honor Roll of Donors, it is my privilege once again to offer recognition and grateful acknowledgement to our alumni and friends who have helped support the Law School during the past fiscal year.

The Law School's greatest strength is our community of loyal friends who give so generously of their time and talent as well as gifts of financial support. In these pages you will meet some of your friends and colleagues and learn more about their support of the School. We also extend a warm welcome to new members of the Dean's Circle, a group of alumni and friends who make an annual gift of $1,000 or more to the Law Annual Fund, to a scholarship fund, or to a programmatic activity of the Law School.

The Law School's greatest need is for scholarships to help recruit and support the most deserving students. In this time of soaring educational costs, many of our best and brightest students would not be able to attend the Law School without financial assistance. In fact, you may be surprised to learn that approximately 85% of our students receive some type of financial aid, including scholarships and loans, to help cover the cost of their legal education.

I am pleased to announce the creation of two new scholarships: the Professor Robert H. Waters Memorial Scholarship honoring our beloved late professor; and the Professor Daniel E. Murray Scholarship named for Professor Emeritus Murray, long-time faculty advisor to The University of Miami Law Review. We extend heartfelt gratitude to the alumni and friends who are working together to enlist gifts and donations to support these important new scholarships.

Our students are extremely grateful to receive scholarship awards, which often make a life-changing difference for them. As you meet some of these students in these pages, keep in mind that it is your generosity and commitment that make this vital assistance possible.

In addition to scholarships, your gifts help support the innovative, award-winning Law School programs H.O.P.E., the Children & Youth Law Clinic, and the Center for Ethics & Public Service, as well as the much lauded Litigation Skills Program and the Professional Opportunities Program. In these pages, you will learn about the many honors and awards earned by these fine public service programs. Please keep in mind that all these programs depend upon gifts and donations to continue their important work.

As you may know, this fall the University of Miami will launch "Momentum: The Campaign for the University of Miami." The Law School will participate in this university-wide funding campaign. I will keep you advised of this endeavor as details become available.

With sadness at the loss of a true friend, we note the passing of Reba Engler Daner, AB '30, JD '36. Reba was a pioneering feminist, the only woman to graduate in the Law School Class of 1936. She maintained her affectionate and generous support of her alma mater throughout her long life, taking an active part in the Law School community and its activities until shortly before her death. Reba was a charming lady whose presence enlivened many Law School gatherings. In a final act of great generosity, Reba made a substantial planned gift to the Law School from her estate. We will miss Reba Engler Daner. This issue of the Honor Roll of Donors is dedicated to her memory.

We are proud of the recognition and accomplishments of our UM Law alumni and friends, our talented faculty, and our students. Most of all, we are gratified by the fine men and women of our Law School community who use their time and talents to help others in the finest tradition of our profession.

I know you share our pride in our UM Law community. We thank you for the generosity that makes this possible. We hope we can continue to count on your support. Every gift counts and every gift helps.

I look forward to seeing you often in the coming year.

"This fall, the University will launch "Momentum: The Campaign for the University of Miami." Within this university-wide campaign, the School of Law is challenged to raise a portion of the total goal. The upcoming fundraising campaign is of great importance to the law school's future. As members of the Law School community, we want to ensure that the law school continues to grow and reach new levels of recognition. We can all help by our continued financial support."

Reba Engler Daner

Reba Engler Daner, pioneering female attorney and generous benefactor of the Law School, passed away in March 2003.

For decades, Reba Engler Daner was a near-legendary figure at the University of Miami School of Law. She earned her JD in the Law School's Class of 1936, the only female member of her class at a time when few women dared to consider a career in the law. She was born in Key West, the only child of immigrant parents. Reba admitted that her father urged her to go to law school, but she was a willing pupil. "I just wanted to become a lawyer," she once said. "I was happy to do it."

At her Law School graduation, Reba was seven months pregnant and married to the late Leonard Epstein, a tax attorney. The mother of two daughters, she took over Epstein's law practice upon his death and spent long years balancing the demands of career and family. In all, Reba practiced law for some fifty years before her retirement.

Following the death of her first husband, Leonard Epstein, Reba married Jack L. Daner in 1948, and the handsome couple regularly attended community and Law School functions together until very recently. Jack predeceased Reba by a few months earlier this year.

Although she never seemed to dwell on it, Reba was a female pioneer in many respects. She served in countless community, educational, and professional organizations, as well as religious and philanthropic endeavors. She was a director of the UM Alumni Association, a member of the Society of University Founders, a member of Iron Arrow, was listed in Who's Who of American Women, member of the Florida Bar, and a founding member of Rho Beta Omicron, a public speaking fraternity, among many other achievements. Her commitment was to the growth, well-being, and development of the University of Miami, a place she once described as "quite small and unknown" when she first attended. She took great pride in the achievements of the University and the Law School, and she was always ready to help.

Throughout her long and productive life, Reba remained a generous and enthusiastic benefactor of her alma mater. Her close relationship with the Law School extended through the tenure of several deans, whom she assisted with projects such as creation of the Law School's Moot Courtroom in the 1960's. One of her closest friends among the law deans was former dean and UM Law Professor Mary Doyle. It was Mary Doyle who sought Reba's assistance with her campaign to fund construction of a substantial addition to the Law School's library. Reba had a special interest in libraries, especially those open to the public as is the UM Law Library. Her generous pledge of $2 million was an important leadership gift. In recognition of Reba's generosity and support, the Law School named a wing of the Law Library addition in her honor and commissioned a portrait of Reba to hang in the library.

This portrait, shown on the cover of this magazine, still hangs in the Law Library to commemorate her generosity and vision for the Law School. In a final act of great generosity, Reba made a substantial planned gift in the form of a remainder life estate to the Law School. This issue of the Honor Roll of Donors is dedicated to the memory of Reba Engler Daner, who embodied the highest ideals of philanthropy.

The Dean's Circle

On behalf of the committee, I wish to thank all of our Dean's Circle members for their generosity towards the Law School and welcome new Dean's Circle members who contributed during the fiscal year of June 1, 2002 to May 31, 2003.

We look forward to having another prosperous year in 2003-04. Together, I know that we will help continue to raise the level of support for the Dean's Circle, a vital source of funds for the School of Law. Our long-term goal is to expand the Dean's Circle contributions into the equivalent of an endowment fund that will provide annual revenue on which the Law School can depend.

By supporting student scholarships as well as Law School programs, we not only assist in the School's growth, but also help to maintain its status as one of the finest law schools in the nation. As an alumnus, I believe in the importance of our Law School and when we give back to our School through active participation and financial contributions, we give back to our community by educating quality lawyers, contribute to an active and qualified judiciary, and act as a resource to the South Florida community in a variety of ways.

We members of the Dean's Circle encourage those individuals who have not joined the Dean's Circle previously to make a gift next year and be part of this collective effort.

Membership in the University of Miami School of Law's Dean's Circle reflects a high level of commitment to the School and a shared vision for ensuring excellence in legal education.

By making an annual gift of $1,000 or more to the Law Annual Fund, Law School scholarships, or other programmatic activities, members help ensure that UM Law retains its place among the nation's leading law schools. Dean's Circle members receive invitations to exclusive events throughout the academic year, and a plaque lists each member's name on the Dean's Circle Donor Wall located in the lobby of the Law Library.

Dean's Circle membership also entitles you to recognition as a member of the University of Miami President's Circle. For alumni who graduated within the past 10 years, the annual giving requirement is $500 for recognition in the Protégé membership category.

GRADS GIVE BACK

"I have benefited from the Reid scholarship because it enabled me to stay home in Miami and go to UM Law School, and obtain an exemplary education in the process. Also, the growing reputation of the School and its faculty were factors in my decision to attend. I probably would have attended a different law school without the Reid Scholarship."

Honor Roll of Donors 2002-2003

“I encourage you to make a gift to the Law Annual Fund and help increase our pledges and alumni participation rate.”

We are extremely grateful for the support of all our alumni and friends.

In Spring 2003, we held our Annual Judicial Receptions in Broward County and Palm Beach County to honor our hardworking and distinguished South Florida judiciary. Our judicial receptions are always well attended and I encourage you to attend them. The Dade Judicial Reception is slated for October 1, 2003. We thank and acknowledge all of our sponsors, especially Gibraltar Bank and Bacardi USA, Inc., for their generous underwriting support of many of this year's events.

We also thank you for this year's support of our Law Annual Fund. The Law Alumni Association is very grateful to all who supported the Annual Fund and challenge you to give to the Annual Fund in the next year, so that we may continue to improve the quality of our Law School and the educational experience we provide to our law students.

It is up to each of us to ensure that the University of Miami School of Law will continue to have an impact not only on the legal profession and the community of Miami-Dade County, but also the state of Florida, as well as on society as a whole.

I encourage you to make a gift to the Law Annual Fund and help increase our pledges and alumni participation rate. We can only achieve this by increasing the number of donors to the Law School. Every gift counts and is an expression of your confidence in the legal education provided by the Law School.

Thank you again for your commitment to our University of Miami School of Law.

Sincerely,

Todd S. Payne, JD '89

Graduate Spotlight

Tod Aronovitz, JD '74
 2002-03 President,
 The Florida Bar

“Dignity in Law”

Dignity in Law is the public awareness campaign to improve the public perception of the legal profession by educating the public on the positive work of lawyers and judges across the state of Florida. It was launched by The Florida Bar in 2002 to communicate positive stories about the legal profession to the state's communities.

“My travels throughout the state speaking with lawyers and judges and appearing before the Florida legislature on Florida Bar issues shows me that there is a profound respect by the general public for our profession. The Dignity in Law program started as a concept and grew and grew. We were very successful this past year in having positive stories written in publications throughout the state from Pensacola to Key West about the great work that lawyers and judges do everyday for our clients, in our courtrooms, and in our communities.”

Donations during June 1, 2002 – May 31, 2003.

"It is important to give to the Law School so that its reputation continues to grow.

Our money is going to student scholarships to help attract the best students to our School. An excellent student body enhances the Law School community and becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy where great students and great professors grow together to make the Law School a great place."

Center for Ethics & Public Service

The Center for Ethics and Public Service at the University of Miami School of Law is an interdisciplinary project devoted to teaching the values of ethical judgment, raising the standards for professional responsibility, and inculcating the values of public service in law and society. Founded in 1996 under the direction of Professor Anthony V. Alfieri, the Center provides training in ethics and professional values to the Law School and the University as well as to the Florida business, civic, education and legal communities.

GRADS GIVE BACK

"Under the leadership of Professor Alfieri, the Center not only provides an opportunity for law students to become involved in community service, but also extends great services to our community. A contribution to the Center is an investment in the future of our community because it is a training ground for people who will come into the practice of law already having experienced how they can use their legal education to assist people who are less advantaged."

Children & Youth Law Clinic

The University of Miami School of Law's Children & Youth Law Clinic provides legal representation to poor children, primarily those in the foster care system, ensuring that they have a voice in court proceedings. To achieve its goals, the Clinic engages in impact litigation, law reform advocacy and community lawyering.

Under the supervision of Bernie Perlmutter, JD '83, and Carolyn Salisbury, JD '95, more than 40 law students enroll each year in the Clinic for academic credit. Many Law School alumni also volunteer their services pro bono to assist clients of the Clinic, for which we are grateful. The Children & Youth Law Clinic would like to give special recognition to the BankAtlantic Foundation, Inc., and Florida Bar Foundation for their very generous support of the clinic.

We recognize the following contributors for their ongoing support:

Clinic Earns Honors

The Law School is proud to announce that the Children & Youth Law Clinic is a recipient of the following 2002-03 awards:

- The 2003 Clinical Legal Education Association's Award for Excellence in a Public Interest Law Case or Project (awarded for the Foster Children's Mental Health Rights Project)
- First Runner-up, The Florida Bar Foundation's 2003 Steven M. Goldstein Award for Excellence (awarded for the Older Foster Youth Advocacy Project)
- The 2003 National Association of Counsel for Children Outstanding Legal Advocacy Award (awarded for child advocacy efforts)

The Florida Bar Foundation

Paul Doyle

"The Children & Youth Law Clinic is a critical component of the Law School and of legal services for the poor, particularly poor children. The clinic continues to demonstrate the highest level of professionalism and dedication to its clients. It gets the highest accolades."

H.O.P.E. – Helping Others Through Pro Bono Efforts

H.O.P.E. is the University of Miami School of Law's public interest resource center. Under the direction of Marni Lennon, JD '85, Assistant Dean of Students, each year, more than 300 students participate in community projects to benefit the homeless, children, immigrants, the environment and more. During the 2002-03 academic year, 23 H.O.P.E. Fellows served in local and international placements focusing on global advocacy initiatives, providing over 2500 hours of pro bono legal services to those in need.

We gratefully acknowledge the support of the following contributors:

Andrea L. Wagner, JD '03

Fara T. Gold, JD '03

"H.O.P.E. offers both community service and legal advocacy opportunities. It appeals to a wide range of students with interests in many aspects of the law. H.O.P.E. offers an outlet for students to remind themselves that the UM Law experience does not have to be solely about books and cases, but rather about the community in which we live and the lawyers we hope to become."

Professional Opportunities Program

Since 1989, the Professional Opportunities Program (P.O.P.) has provided numerous opportunities for students, including funding for judicial internships, law firm summer clerkships and mentoring. Through the cooperative efforts of the Dade County Bar Association Young Lawyers Section, the University of Miami, and several Miami law firms, P.O.P. was developed to help black law students make a successful transition from law school to positions with Florida employers. In 2003, 25 students were placed through the program.

The donations of firms such as Morgan Lewis & Bockius, who gave $25,000 to P.O.P. in celebration of the 25th anniversary of its Miami office, and Steel Hector & Davis are vital to its continuing growth.

We gratefully acknowledge the support of the following contributors:

"We are proud of what we've accomplished in this community, and I can think of no better way to say 'thank you' and to celebrate Morgan Lewis' quarter century of outstanding legal practice than to make a significant contribution to the success of this program. Ultimately, our goal in making this donation is to help the Miami legal community better reflect the remarkable vibrance and diversity of our local population."

Harvey T. Reid Scholarship

Wendi Adelson

Reid Scholar, 2003-04

"To me, the Reid Scholarship means freedom. Receiving full funding for law school means that I can pursue public service debt free for the rest of my life. With the help of the Reid Scholarship, I can spend every summer doing the kind of often low-paid immigration and refugee legal work that interests me, without succumbing to the pressures of financing a costly legal education."

The Harvey T. Reid Scholarship was established in 1970 by the late Harvey T. Reid, former chairperson of West Publishing Company, and friend and benefactor of the School of Law. This prestigious scholarship is awarded to outstanding members of the entering class who possess exemplary academic records, demonstrate leadership qualities, and exhibit potential for making substantial contributions to the legal profession and society. Each Reid Scholarship provides full tuition for Law School, plus a stipend. We thank the donors who contributed to this Fund.

GRADS GIVE BACK

"Because of the courses that he taught and the role that he played on the Law Review, Dan Murray was a great influence on a lot of students who owe a good portion of their success to his guidance. It is fitting that we take steps to recognize the benefit that he gave us."

Professor Robert H. Waters Memorial Scholarship

The School of Law established this scholarship in 2002 to honor the late Robert H. Waters, a faculty member for over 30 years and an outstanding teacher and mentor to countless students. Among his numerous achievements, Professor Waters founded the James Weldon Johnson Summer Institute, an enrichment program for black students entering law school. In his honor, this Institute was posthumously renamed The James Weldon Johnson/Robert H. Waters Summer Institute.

We thank the Professor Robert H. Waters Memorial Fund committee members for their efforts and support. As of July 31, 2003, over $70,000 has been raised in pledges and gifts.

"Your contribution to the scholarship funds of the University of Miami School of Law is an essential part of our vision. It will help to unite people without looking at financial backgrounds or social status. Please take this chance to give other students the opportunity to study with UM Law's world-renowned faculty who broaden our legal knowledge. I will always be very grateful for having been given this chance."

Real Estate: Don't Overlook Its Potential as a Gift Asset

If you have a piece of property that you no longer need, have concerns about income, gift or estate taxes and are interested in supporting a program at the University of Miami School of Law through a charitable gift, please read on.

You can alleviate the responsibilities of managing real estate, avoid the trouble, time and cost of selling your house, condominium, vacation home, residential rental property, farm, commercial property or undeveloped land by donating the property to the University of Miami School of Law, or selling it to the School at a bargain price. You will receive an immediate income tax charitable deduction for the full fair market value of the property, less any debt, and reduction or elimination of capital gains tax on the property's appreciation. It is especially important to take capital gains tax into consideration when planning to sell property that is not your primary residence, as the exclusion (of $250,000 for individuals or $500,000 for married couples) does not apply.

If you wish to continue to live in your personal residence or farm now but also wish to give the property to the Law School, a retained life estate gift could be for you. You can designate ownership of your home to the Law School, but retain the right to use the property during your lifetime and/or that of your spouse or another person you designate.

With either of these gift options, no gift tax will be due and your taxable estate will be reduced. Also, either type of gift can be made by a direct transfer of the deed or by converting the deed to an income-generating charitable gift, such as a charitable remainder trust, which would result in the sale of the property and the use of the proceeds of the sale to generate an income stream for you.

If any of these opportunities sound interesting to you, or if you have any other questions about making charitable gifts part of your financial and/or estate plans, please contact the University of Miami Office of Estate and Gift Planning.

For information contact Lucy Morillo, Esq., Executive Director, at (305) 284-4342 (lmorillo@miami.edu) or Tina Surman, Esq., Director, can be reached at (305) 284-1527 (tsurman@miami.edu).

Fall Reunions and the Challenge

Barbara Perez, JD '93
Vice-President for Fundraising, 2003-04
Law Alumni Association

As chair for the Class of 1993 Law School reunion, I am excited that we will come together for our 10th reunion during November 14 – 16, 2003. It is hard to believe that ten years have gone by when memories are so fresh. It will be a festive weekend celebrating our reunion with the Classes of 1983, 1978, 1973, and 1963.

In honor of our reunion, the faculty and administration will be counting on us to deliver a special class gift to the School of Law. Currently, alumni participation University-wide is 15%.

Our goal is to obtain 25% law alumni giving. You can check your class website to see how much your class raised last year by going to www.law.miami.edu/alumni. Let's work together to set new records, class by class, in both dollars and donors.

I am proud to be an alumna of the Law School. I'm sure you feel the same. This is the time to show your support and appreciation by helping our Alma Mater. See you in November!
